

until a few weeks ago, when its owner put it together and set it up in the brewery. Here it is now doing good service and will doubtless continue to do so for Mr. Hammett's descendants much later than "even until the third and fourth generations."

From Monday's Daily.
Deputy Sheriff Barrios of Valencia county, came in from the west this morning.

The two men who worked up the book scheme have left the city for other "green" fields.

Brother laborer, from the Christian Brothers' college at Bernalillo, is in the city to-day.

Alvaro Randoval, who was at Santa Fe on a visit the past week, returned to the city last night.

Ira Henry and wife are in the city from Topeka, and Mr. Henry has accepted a position at the local railway shop.

Mrs. J. D. Oatton, from Hot Springs Junction, Ark., is in the city to visit her son, who is in the employ of W. L. Trimble & Co.

Mrs. C. E. Derbyshire, from Williams, Ark., came in from the west this morning, and taken a room at the Grand Central.

C. C. Clark, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of New Mexico, will arrive this evening and install the officers of Mineral High No. 4.

I. H. Hupp, the East Las Vegas architect, who had the building of New Mexico's capitol under way, was here last night, returned this morning to the city.

Capt. C. B. Kilmer, for years the well-known right-of-way agent for the Santa Fe railway, who at Topeka the other day, will be in the city tonight with a number of Albuquerque people.

Misses Adie and Kate Brown, sisters of Mrs. F. P. Kelly, wife of the local Santa Fe ticket agent, arrived in the city this morning from New Orleans, La., and they will remain here for a few weeks.

The Albuquerque party who attended the "Corn Dance" at the Indian village of Santa Domingo last Saturday, have returned to the city and all speak in favorable terms of the dance as an interesting feature.

Major H. R. Whiting is making arrangements to attend the Grand Army reunion at Chicago. He was a gallant officer in Gen. Bragg's "Iron Brigade," and he will be in the city for a few days.

S. H. Snyder and family came in from the north last night, and Snyder is connected with the Harvey water house system.

Don Pedro Perez, delegate to congress, came in from Bernalillo last night, to see his brother Jose and sister, who is still confined to his room with rheumatism.

C. F. Wagoner was at Bernalillo yesterday on business connected with the wholesale grocery establishment of Wagoner & Co. He returned to the city last night.

The dance given at the Victoria hall last night by the Albuquerque Guards was a very enjoyable affair, and was largely attended, regardless of the fact that the weather was oppressively hot.

Tor, Mandarini, the popular artist of the city, who is visiting at the Victoria hall, was a passenger this morning for Tucson, Ariz., where he goes on missionary work. He will be absent from the city for about two weeks.

Colonel Francisco Perez, late of Jones Springs, is having trouble getting a house to suit him in this city. He is the father of thirty-three children and they live on the ground up and need room to grow. The colonel is seventy years old and hale and hearty.

P. H. Frost, A. G. Frost and P. G. Whitlock, three young men from Topeka, Kan., passed through the city last night for Mexico, where they will engage in work for the Mexican Central. During their stop over in this city, Mr. Frost, chief clerk at the local freight depot, entertained them.

Yesterday afternoon, Carl Hoffman, the manager of the Metropolitan resort, feeling uneasy about the reports in circulation that John Wickstrom, who is visiting the lake resort, had returned to Minnesota, had suddenly disappeared and his absence was a mystery, telegraphed for facts and received an answer that he was in an arm at the Ancker hospital, Minneapolis.

Noble S. Trimble, who has earned a much needed vacation by his faithful attention to duty at the Second street fire station, left on the delayed passenger train this morning for New York, where he will spend some time with his friends and wish him an enjoyable time in the big city. He proposes to see all the interesting sights of the great metropolis, and will take in the Pittsburg-Hudson fight there on August 16.

J. H. Stimpfe, attorney for C. D. Wagoner, proprietor of the Minneapolis hotel house, has taken an appeal in the case of Crane vs. Wagoner, which was tried before Justice O'Connell yesterday afternoon. After taking possession of the trunk belonging to Mrs. Crane and after his trial before Justice O'Connell, Mr. Wagoner appeared before Justice O'Connell and moved out a writ of attachment on the trunk and other articles belonging to the Cranes. The goods of the latter are now in the possession of Constable James Smith.

For the past year rumors have been in circulation at regular intervals, that the famous Mount St. Helens, under the name of "disaster" and that one or the other would sooner or later erupt for an absolute disaster. Now the news comes from San Antonio, Texas, that the Mount St. Helens, which has been in the district court of that city, and which is being present with his mother, Mrs. W. E. Talbot. Both of the parties interested in this separation are well-known to our citizens. Mrs. Talbot, the daughter of J. H. Talbot, has resided in this city since she was a little girl, and her husband, who represents the Meyer Drug company, coming here as a commercial traveler for many years.

C. A. Hudson, the north Second street painter and manager of the Hudson Hill Pointing company, returned to the city after leaving, as he stated, the best time of his life on his recent visit to eastern cities. He has been in the domestic line at the annual convention at Kansas City, where he officiated as one of the officers at the hall, and after leaving that city he went to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was in the employ of the National Painters' convention, and thence to Atlantic City, N. J. Here he mingled and drank with the best of the best of the city, and he has returned to the city with a new lease on life.

Mrs. James Grunwald, wife of the junior member of the clothing firm of Grunwald & Grunwald, was out yesterday for a short time, and she was seen by the United States. Leaving Atlantic City, she crossed over into New York and saw the various interesting districts to his heart's content. He has promised Mrs. Trimble that he would write a brief history of the city.

An Antique Clock.
John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

DROUTH AT BLAND.

Extraordinary Conditions from which Pine Trees are Dying.

NO WATER IN THE STREAMS.

Unless the golden Cofretil district is favored with a soaking rain in the next few days we can expect to experience the driest period in the history of the camp, says the Bland Herald. Nearly all the wells are dry and instead of the silver prospecting on the hills for precious metals they are digging below the surface in the guilches for water, with little or no prospect of success.

The water question has been a problem for the superintendent and the miners at the Lone Star Tunnel for the past two weeks and it has not yet been solved. Two wells at the old compressor have been pumped dry and now a few men are drifting for water from the bottom of one of the wells.

During the night a small amount of water will run into a well, and the supply only keeps the compressor running about half of the time. Owing to this difficulty, it is impossible for double shifts to be employed at the machine drills, and as a result several of the workmen were laid off temporarily this morning. On this account very little progress has been made in the working tunnel in the last two weeks.

The tunnel is now in 100 feet with no probability of its being lengthened more than three or four feet per day until the water supply is increased.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant of this district has there been such a drouth in this section. Herefore the miners, who are an abundance of snow, has fallen, which feed the streams throughout the summer months, but the last winter was an open one and a very small amount of the "heavies" fell in these parts.

However, when the winter season sets in, which is due to arrive at any time, activity in all branches of business will resume at once.

Editor's Awful Plight.
F. M. Higgins, editor of the Seneca, Illinois, News, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy could cure. He writes two boxes weekly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best sale in the world. Cured guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by J. H. O'Reilly & Co., drugists.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.
Mrs. Berge and two children had nearly struck a telephone pole and were in a very bad fix when they were rescued by a passing car.

Chief Hupp will make a carefully prepared report to the city council this evening on the condition of the fire department.

While Mrs. A. M. Berge and two children, aged 19 and 5 years, were driving on the plaza at 10 o'clock Saturday the horse took fright and started on a mad dash up Lincoln avenue. The children screamed, but Mrs. Berge struck a telephone pole and threw the little ones severely to the ground. The occupants were unhurt, but Mrs. Berge was picked up unconscious, and for a time it was feared she had suffered serious injury, but this apprehension proved to be not the case. The family is quite ill from the shock and the nervous strain.

For Over Fifty Years.
An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, cures the colic, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists and everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. It is the only remedy that is sure and safe for children. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

A PARTITION SUIT.
The Pedro Sanchez Land Grant is involved in the case.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince, an attorney for the plaintiffs, has filed a suit in the district court at Santa Fe, entitled Manuel Sanchez et al. vs. George N. Fletcher et al., for a partition and quieting of title of the Pedro Sanchez and Grant of 1848 in acres, situated in Santa Fe and Bernalillo counties, against the adverse claims of the defendants, who are also accused of cutting valuable timber on the grant. The plaintiffs, therefore, ask for an injunction to restrain the defendants from cutting timber on the grant and ask for the appointment of a receiver to administer the grant until the case has been decided by the courts.

What most people want is something mild and gentle, when in need of a physic. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets fill the bill to a dot. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by all druggists.

Stating at Kelly.
The Queen Grove Mining and Smelting company is doing some excellent work on its property in the Kelly camp. The gentlemen of this company are from New York, have an abundance of capital and are presently carrying their mining enterprise in a very systematic, business like manner. They are now driving a tunnel five by seven feet into the side of the mountain and expect to reach the surface in a few days.

Last June, in a wreck on the Santa Fe, at near Watsons, the railway mail agent, John L. Gay, was pretty badly injured. He was taken to the La Junta hospital, and recovered sufficiently to leave that institution a few days ago, coming to this city. He will stay this evening for southern California.

Mrs. Conant, aged 22 years, arrived in this city last night from Cerritos, having been on the road from Peoria, Ill., to this city as a charity passenger. She is on her way to Pleasant, Ariz., where her husband, Mr. Conant, is employed. She is a very attractive young woman, and her two sons, who are invalids, now reside.

Mrs. James Grunwald, wife of the junior member of the clothing firm of Grunwald & Grunwald, was out yesterday for a short time, and she was seen by the United States. Leaving Atlantic City, she crossed over into New York and saw the various interesting districts to his heart's content. He has promised Mrs. Trimble that he would write a brief history of the city.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

John Hammett, of the Illinois Brewing company, has an antique clock that is the pride of his heart, says the Chief-Clank. Mr. Hammett made the clock himself more than half a century ago, and it is a fine specimen of the work of the old time. Since it was brought from the land of its birth nearly fifty years ago, this antique timepiece has lain dimmed and securely holed.

face and increases both in width and in thickness as it goes downward. The tumor has been driven 175 feet, in a hole that the ore vein will be reached before the 400 foot mark is reached. While seeking their own gain these prospectors are doing much for the camp and are certainly entitled to the good will and support of the camp-Socorro Chief.

Gold! Gold! Gold!
The latest El Dorado is reported to be on Nome City Beach, Alaska. Thousands of people are hastening there, many of whom will return broken in health. Of that vast gold when health is gone? Guard your health with the best of all medicines—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and you will always have true wealth. The Pink Pills for people who have contracted their stomachs, or are naturally weak. It will regulate the bowels, stir up the liver, invigorate the kidneys, and absolutely cure indigestion, constipation, biliousness, and all the ailments of a weak stomach. It should be taken to protect the system from chills and fever and malarial attacks. It's a good medicine to keep on hand.

SANTA FE SIFTINGS.
From the New Mexican.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hays are now comfortably quartered in their new home at Bland, but years for the summer shade of Santa Fe.

Mrs. O. S. Fletcher and Miss Myrtle Hays returned the first of the week from their outing on the Pecos, making the trip about on horseback over the Gila Trail.

Miss Casey, of St. Louis, a bright and attractive young lady, who spent part of the summer with relatives at Albuquerque, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Crane for a week or more.

Shirley Eubank and Ansonia left on Thursday last for the mother house of the Sisters of Charity at Cincinnati for a vacation. They will be in the city for a week or more.

Col. N. H. Walpole returned from the Bland Indian agency, where he has been looking after the construction of a large school building and a reservoir and pipe line for supplying the agency with water both for domestic and irrigation purposes.

John J. Warner, well known here, is now residing in Yokohama, Japan, where she acts as stenographer for a tea export house and with which she has a three years' contract. Her mother, who is in the city, and after seeing her daughter comfortably settled, returned to San Francisco.

Miss E. B. Bland and wife, accompanied by Miss Vesta McClure went to Cerritos Friday night, where a social dance was given by Manager S. G. Burn of the Edison works, Messrs. Chas. Chapman and J. V. Miller. They were joined by Mrs. J. Sheridan, of Albuquerque, and the whole party attended the dance at Cerritos.

The harvest of the first crop of alfalfa at the water company farm has been finished and amounts to 500 tons. The alfalfa is now being baled and is being hauled to town for sale.

It is reported that no water has been drawn from the city supply reservoir for irrigation this season. This is regarded as a good thing. During the remainder of the year the water will be used for pasturage purposes.

Ralph McNeil, son of Judge and Mrs. J. R. McNeil, writes from Manila that he is very well satisfied with his new position as a clerk in the Philippine Islands and that he is enjoying the life.

Property owners residing on north Broadway petitioned the council, asking that a road fifteen feet wide and a number of feet wide be laid out through the property. The petition was referred to the street committee.

Taxpayers residing on west Silver avenue petitioned the council in regard to the placing of a new electric light at the corner of Fifth street and Silver avenue. The council ordered the light put up at once.

An informal report was made by the street committee on the claim for damages of Mrs. Frederickson, alleging that the extension of North Fourth street takes from the east side of her lot a strip fourteen inches in width and damaging it for building purposes to the extent of $50. The report was laid on the table indefinitely.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.

The council then discussed sidewalks and notices were ordered published for building sidewalks on south Fourth street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Lead avenue, east side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Silver avenue, south side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. North side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Third street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Third street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. Second street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, east side, between Coal and Silver avenues. First street, west side, between Coal and Silver avenues.